

Here is the Sea!

finger play

Here is the sea,
the wavy sea.

Make small waves with hands

An illustration showing two hands positioned to create small, rhythmic waves. The hands are shown in a light blue color, and the waves are depicted as a series of overlapping, wavy lines in shades of blue and cyan.

Here is the boat,
and here is me.

Cup hands for a boat,
then point to self

An illustration showing two hands cupped together to form a boat shape. The hands are light blue, and the cupped shape is filled with a darker blue color. The hands are positioned as if they are about to point towards the viewer.

All the fishes
down below,

Put hands down low

An illustration showing two hands held low and flat against the surface. The hands are light blue, and the surface they are resting on is a darker blue color. The hands are positioned as if they are about to wiggle their fingers.

wriggle their tails,
and away they go.

Wiggle fingers,
put them behind you

An illustration showing two hands with fingers wiggling. The hands are light blue, and the fingers are shown in a darker blue color. The hands are positioned as if they are about to be put behind the viewer.